Brigadier General Rolland V. Heiser Assigned As Second In Command At Fort Lewis

FORT LEWIS, WA.-- Brigadier General Rolland V. Heiser, deputy chief of staff for Military Assistance Command operations in Vietnam the past two years, has been assigned as second-in-command here.

The New Fort Lewis deputy commanding general and assistant commander of the 9th Infantry Division arrived on-post Monday. Major General William B. Fulton commands Fort Lewis and the division.

General Heiser, 47, was commissioned in the Cavalry after graduating from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1947.

His recent service in Vietnam was his second tour of duty there. In 1967, he helped establish the Vietnamese National Defense College and was its first Senior Advisor.

He took part in three phases of the Vietnam Counter Offensive and in the Tet Counter Offensive. The action earned him the Legion of Merit, as did a 1968 assignment as commander of the 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment in Germany.

Five years earlier, as a lieutenant colonel, he had commanded the Cavalry unit's 2nd Squadron which was responsible for surveillance along the border between West Germany and the Soviet Zone.

General Heiser attended high school in Alton, Illinois, then received a Reserve commission in the infantry. He was accepted as a West Point cadet in 1944.

His first assignment after graduation was with the 6th Armored Cavalry Regiment along the Czechoslovakian border. In 1950, he was chosen aide-de-camp to General I.D. White, then the commander of the U.S. Constabulary in Germany.

He commanded a tank company in Korea in 1953 and then was selected as an advisor to the Korean Military Academy. He was awarded the Chungmu Distinguished Military Service Medal with Silver Star by the Korean Government.

From 1957-60, he was an instructor at the Armor School at Fort Knox, Kentucky, and then, while with the research and analysis branch, took an active role in development of the Air Cavalry concept.

In the mid-60s, he completed the Naval War College course and earned a Master's Degree in International Affairs. A 1965 assignment with the Politico-Military Branch of the Joint War Games Agency, part of the Joint Chiefs of Staff organization, brought him another Legion of Merit.

He was promoted to Brigadier General in June 1970.

General and Mrs. (Helen) Heiser have two daughters, Helen, 21, and Charlene, 19.

Human Rights Commisson Deplores Raical Statement By Metropoliton Board Commissoner

Alfred E. Cowles, Executive Secretary of the Washington State Human Rights Commission, announced that the commission passed the following resolution in the response to a situation brought to its attention by the Tacoma Advisory Council to the Washington State Human Rights Commission and the Minority Coalition of Tacoma:

"The Washington State Human Rights Commission deplores the racist statements made by Wilfred Brown of the Tacoma Metropolitan Park Board. It is unbelievable that a person charged with serving the needs of a multi-racial electrorate would excuse such poor judgment. The commission feels that ideally, local issues should be conciliated by the community itself. If, however, this is not achievable by local resources, the Washington State Human Rights Commission will make available its resources if requested by concerned local groups."

The resolution was adopted by the commission at its regular monthly meeting in Seattle on Thursday, June 22, 1972.

Camp Murry Summer Session Now Registering

Applications are now being taken to register 30 young gentlemen, who are in the 8th grade and reside in the Model Neighborhood, that wish to participate in the Camp Murry Summer Project designed to provide educational experience as well as recreational opportunities. The session will include experiences in physical fitness, aquatic activities and camping skills, rocket building and launching, sailing arts and crafts, cultural and historic presentations, the study of geographical and geological characteristics during which half of the students will travel to the cost and mountain areas of Western Washington and the other one-half will be flown by the Air National Guard to the mountain and desert areas of Eastern Washington.

All interested persons should fill out the registration form provided or contact Dr. Gene Tone, Central School, FU 3-1811 ext. 432 or Dr. Jones, University of Puget Sound, SK 9-3521 ext. 354 or Lucille Delaney, Model Cities Program, 593-4660.

Narcotic Information

Are you still wondering what those strange looking pills were found in your son's desk? Could be he is beginning to use drugs. The Narcotic Drop-In Center located at the Tacoma Urban League, 1704 South Kay, is a federally funded program which has a component which could answer these questions for you or your friends.

The Narcotics Outreach staff is available to present films, and presentation to any organization or group in the community free of charge who may have an interest in combating drug abuse.

Recently, the Center purchase a demonstration drug kit which is filled with simulated drugs such as amphetamines and barbiturates that your children may become exposed to or may be using. The kit is on display at the Drop-In Center. A staff is available at all times to answer any questions you may have.

Y.E.S. And Active Organization

I am almost certain that a large majority of people in the community are hovering over the idea, that the Youth Employment Service is nothing but a big front. I feel those who concieved such an idea, do not realize what Y.E.S.'s main goal is. The goal is to find summer employment, mostly for disadvantaged young people. I feel proud to say we are accomplishing just that. Now I believe you're saying actions speak louder than words, and you're right. We feel we have some outstanding accomplishments.

On June 19, 1972 Miss Sharon Stewart a junior attending Mt. Tahoma High School, started work under the supervision of Mr. Bob Main at the IBM Co. Sharon's job is mostly based around General Clerical work. Sharon stated: "I am pleased with my placement in the IBM Co., because it will help me in my further years. I plan on being an executive secretary of working in some other business, and I feel this will help me get use to business procedure."

Also on June 16, 1972 at the IBM Co., Miss Bertha Lynn was hired and is working under the supervision of Mr. McGraff. She too will be doing general clerical work. We have found other jobs besides clerical work, for instance, on May 31, 1972, Mr. Walter Braswell was hired at Sears department store. Walter is working in the sales division.

Through our assistance these young people were able to be employed with good paying jobs for the summer months. So I hope by the few examples that we have given, that the disbelievers now believe that we mean business and that we are no front.

Community let's get together help mold a man. Give a kid a job this summer.

Scouting

Summer is here and Camping Spirit is the order of the day. Our first camp is Day Camp at Camp Kilworth for 8 to 13 year old boys and girls. The pick up point's are at Stanley School 8:00 A.M., Lincoln School 8:15 A.M., Salishan at 8:30 A.M., and Lister School. The camp will end at three o'clock and most returns should begin about 4:00 P.M. each day. Our regular summer camp at Hahobas on Hood Canal will start on July 2 - 8, 9 - 15, 16 - 22, 23 - 29, and July 30 through August 5. All troops in the Hilltop area have signed up for one week. We hope to see all Scouts and non-Scouts at the Hahobas Scout Reservation during the summer. We are looking for new members and parents to help make this summer a great one, with all of the people working together, we can make this summer the beginning project to get back close to our youth. We have the greatest camping surroundings in the whole world right here in the state of Washington and youth love camping, so let's show them we are standing behind them.

Real Estate Training Available

Persons interested in training for careers in real estate at the Clover Park Vocational Technical Institute should arrange an appointment with the instructor as soon as possible and no later than August 4, according to school officials. The 20 week course begins August 28 and ends January 26, 1973.

The reason for the early enrollment action, according to instructor I.T. Williams, is the new law passed by the 1972 legislature which requires applications for the real estate salesman's license to be on file at least 60 days prior to the examination date.

In addition, the new law requires a credit report on all applicants at least 60 days prior to the test. The two approved credit reporting companies, Williams said, require about ten days to complete their report, so he has to plan ahead for enrollment about 70 days altogether.

Williams' career course focuses on the examination until his students take it on October 14.

After the examination, each student spends part of each day in classroom study and four hours daily working as licensed salesman in a local real estate broker's office until graduation from the course in January.

Men and women who are interested may arrange an appointment to discuss enrollment with Williams by calling the school during week days.

Williams pointed out that certificate courses in real estate to help the licensed salesmen and brokers qualify for their annual license renewal will be offered evenings at Clover Park V-T Institute beginning the week of September 25. The new law requires attendance at these courses.

AMERICAN BLACK CATHOLIC

The American Black Catholic delegation (Bro. Joseph M. Davis & Sr. Martin de Porres Grey) to the Pontifical Commission Justice and Peace Colloquy on Racial Discrimination and The Pastoral Ministry, held in Rome, Italy, were highly pleased with the final tone on which the meetings ended. It was felt that the input of Black and Spanish-Speaking Catholics from the U.S., along with that of other representatives of third world areas exerted a strong influence in shaping the ultimate directions of the session.

The most notable fact was that, what started as a very intellectual, scholarly and essentially European-flavored discussion of various aspects of racism ended as a very realistic appraisal of oppression, genocide and the liberation struggle as it goes on around the world.

The Black Catholic delegation felt that it was instrumental in surfacing the concerns, reflections and aspirations of oppressed people in a manner that otherwise would have been absent.

While final report from the colloquy is still expected, and the exact nature of follow-up action has yet to be determined, the Black Catholic representatives saw the sessions as providing a glimmer of hope that the Catholic Church would see, in a new light, the demensions of the major global social inequities of our time, and as a consequence, adapt a more effective pastoral program for educating its membership to its responsibility in this regard.

Crew Preparing Fire Test Saves Pilot Of Crashed Jet

Within seconds after a USAF Super Sabre jet fighter crash landing, a fire truck responded and secured a fire caused by the jet's fuel spillage.

SUFFOLK, ENGLAND – A U.S. Air Force pilot may owe his life to the fact that his jet fighter aircraft crash-landed near a demonstration site for a new fluorochemical fire fighting agent.

Captain Richard C. Ames, 27, of Sacramento, California, was returning to his temporary duty station at an air base here when his F-100 Super Sabre jet, carrying approximately 900 gallons of fuel, crashed and caught fire. Only a few hundred yards away, a crew was preparing to conduct a test of a fire fighting foam for military officials.

Almost as soon as the plane came to rest, the fire crew in a test truck used its Light Water aqueous film forming foam (a 3M product for the quick extinguishment of petroleum based fires) to cut a knock-down path to the cockpit within five seconds. Ten seconds later, following several sweeps of the vehicle's foam-spewing turret, the fire was 95 per cent extinguished and the pilot had been rescued. The incident occurred at RAF Station Mildenhall near Suffolk.

Derrick E. Carter, chemical products national sales manager of 3M Company UK, commented: "Light Water agent could not have had a better opportunity to prove itself. I estimate that the fire was extinguished with less than 50 gallons. It is likely that without this foam the pilot could have been killed."

Tour ads seen offensive

NEW YORK — The human rights commission has filed discrimination complaints against eight travel agencies for advertising tours and trips to South Africa.

"Such advertising is as offensive to a black person reading it as would be an ad for a hotel which said 'whites only,' said Mrs. Eleanor H. Norton, commission chairman.

"In a city as progressive as New York, I find it disgaceful that the most racist country in the world is allowed to peddle its wares here unchallenged," she said.

A commission spokesman said it is illegal to publish any advertisement to the event that public facilities shall be refused on account of race.

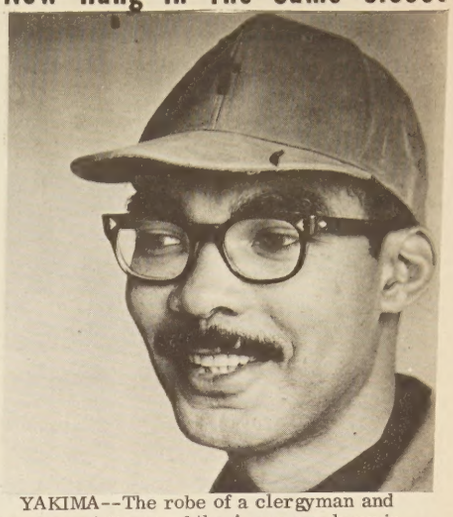
Now Hang In The Same Closet



YAKIMA--The robe of a clergyman and olive green fatigues of the Army now hang in the same closet.

The Rev. Victor C. Langford, pastor of Seattle's Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, at East Union and 22nd Avenue, has taken that dual role.

He joined the Washington Army National Guard three months ago as chaplain of the 3rd Battalion of the 161st Infantry, attached to the 81st Infantry Brigade.

Rev. Langford, who has been pastor of the church 3 1/2 years, has about 200 members in his church. But as batallion chaplain, Chaplain Langford handles about 700 men.

Chaplain Langford, who is participating in his first two-week summer camp at Yakima Firing Center near here, said the challenge of dealing entirely with men prompted his decision to join.

"I'm doing basically the same kind of work anyway, but the Army is a different kind of enviroment," he said. "It's a man's thing here. I thought it would provide good experience for me."

It was no quick sign-up in the National Guard, however. Chaplain Langford said he had to wait about two years to get through two major requirements--a college degree and approval by the national board of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod.

He graduated in 1965 from Concordia Seminary in Springfield, Ill., and immediately became a pastor.

"At the time I enrolled in the seminary, a person was allowed to attend and now have an undergraduate degree," Chaplain Langford said. "But that has changed now."

He said the first time he became interested in becoming a chaplain was after he attended a WANG chaplain's conference in 1970. He found out about the qualifications and immediately began working on them.

He received a bachelor's degree in history last year from Seattle Pacific College.

Later the church board granted approval, and, almost immediately, Chaplain Langford was commissioned first lieutenant and assigned to the 161st.

"I had a long time to decide on whether I really wanted to be a chaplain," he said. "It was no snap decision. This is definitely what I wanted."

He said the congregation of his church was "quite impressed" about his joining.

"The majority didn't think their pastor could get into the Guard because they thought it was hard for a minority person to join," he said. "This is not true."

During weekend drills, Chaplain Langford said he conducts worship services at his church before putting on his uniform. While he is in summer camp a student minister, an intern from Concordia, conducts the service.

Chaplain Langford said his job as chaplain is to deal with individual soldiers' problems and report to the unit commander on the morale of his unit.

He said he hopes some Guards men with problems will see him when not in uniform.

"It is very likely soldiers will visit me during non-duty hours, particularly if they live in the same community," he said. "A minister is the type of person that can be called upon at any time. That is the role of a minister."

What about his feeling about military service?

"People become biased from the bad things they hear, not for what it really is," he said. "The Army is here to stay. It has both good and bad things, but it is a legitimate and necessary calling."

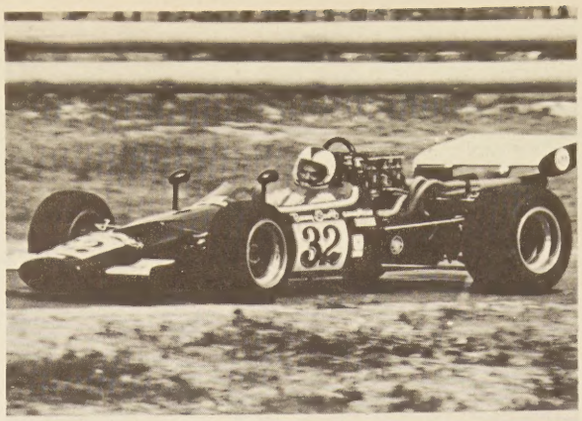
BENNY SCOTT



BENNY SCOTT'S VANGUARD McLAREN M10B

Black driver Benny Scott heads for Watkins Glen, N.Y. in the Harbor Fuel McLaren after "learning plenty" in the first two L&M Grands Prix. Scott, representing Vanguard Racing, is the focus of a long-range effort to train black mechanics and drivers in racing. The big aim is to put Scott in the Indianapolis 500. This year's L&M Championship is Scott's first big car ride and he is steadily building confidence and experience.

Nixon's Inflation Controls Have Failed "The Poor And Black Americans"

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- June 20, 1972 -- The economic conditions of the nation have worsened month after month. The reports are exactly the same this month as they were last month. The Wholesale Index is up again, unemployment is at the same devastating rate.

The situation of the poor and the Black have consistently deteriorated under these conditions. The cost of living has continued to rise while wages have remained frozen. The rate of unemployment among the poor, women, teenagers and Blacks has not remained constant, but has increased.

The Congressional Black Caucus, along with millions of Americans, has lost all faith in the empty promises and predictions of the White House economists. There is one conclusion left clear in our minds. The Nixon Administration inflation control mechanism has been ineffective, has been inadequate, and therefore, has failed. This especially disasterous to the already disadvantaged poor and low-wage earners, who are mostly Black Americans.

With an increase in the cost of living based on the Wholesale Index, which is an addition to all other increases, a constant high rate of unemployment is another discouraging fact. There are more workers unemployed despite a rate that has remained the same. This is based on the greater number of Americans who have entered the job market over the past months.

Even the recently reported successful foreign affairs activities of the President cannot distract us from the dreadful deteriorating conditions of the poor, the Black and the working class American. As Black Members of Congress, we cannot become enthusiastic about any foreign ventures or even consider the support of resulting agreements in the face of such staggering domestic conditions.

The Congressional Black Caucus is equally or more concerned with the issues that have caused the unemployment rate to remain just above or just below 6 per cent for the past 18 months. During this time, the Nixon Administration has done nothing to cure the spiraling cost of living, and the unemployment rates for women and Blacks.

We refuse to accept the repeated excuses in efforts by the Administration to make the American people believe that the unemployment situation is not bad, only because women, teenagers and Blacks are involved. Most of the increases of women and teenagers in the work force are either heads of households, major contributors in poor families, or Black.

The Nixon Administration has blatantly discounted these facts, even to the point of considering to readjust the so-called full employment definition from 4 per cent to 5 per cent. That is even more preposterous. Such a so-called full employment rate would cause the Black unemployment rate to remain above the 11 per cent mark, women above 7 per cent, and teenagers above 18 per cent.

The Congressional Black Caucus calls upon the Nixon Administration to place full employment at the top of this nation's priority list.

McNEIL ISLAND CELEBRATES EMANCIPATION DAY by Elouise Cooper

As I awaken early Sunday morning with only and hour of sleep, I thought about canceling my trip to McNeil. I began to think to myself "wild what's wrong with me," our brothers at McNeil need all the visitors they can get.

After our arrival at the penitentiary, we all went to the auditorium for the start of the program. When I speak of we, I speak in terms of the outside Black Culture Workshop members and community supporters. The program began at 9:30 a.m. with a warm welcome by Bro. Tayari, Black Culture Workshop at McNeil.

We were presented with speeches from inside and outside workshops at McNeil and Seattle. The first speech was presented by Bro.Robert Marks, of the Education Committee. Bro. Marks spoke on "What time it is?"

The guest speaker of the program was Imamu Vernon Sukumu, Congress of African People, Chairman of Wester Division, National Involvement Association, San Diego, California. Bro. Sukumu spoke on "Unity." His speech covered different areas of unity: 1) self 2) family 3) community 4) neighbors 5) nation 6) race and 7) world. Bro. Sukumu stated "The Black man has to stop surviving and start developing." Unity must become a reality; it has to start with those around you. Unification cannot be discussed of the world if we cannot unify our children. After our children are unified, then the nation can become unified. Whether we know it or not we are the wealthiest Africans in the Nation, but what do we have to show for our wealth? In the year of 1970 we contributed to this country 35 billion dollars. "We are at the mercy of the crooks, The EUROPEANS."

The program was an over all success. The beautiful talents that our brothers presented to us was OUT-OF-SIGHT and something always to remember. There were singing groups, musical groups, modeling (outside modelers styling the latest in women fashions escorted by the inmates), a play, and dancing. All this talent was geared in the direction of celebrating the Emancipation Day of Black People being set free on June 18.

Our last speech of the day was presented by Bro. Raymond Beckles, former inmate now Minority History Instructor at SOIC. Bro. Beckles gave us a few words of wisdom to make the day brighter.

We know as outsiders we are not totally free, but think of the brothers at McNeil they don't even have a small part of freedom being behind locked doors.

Whoever you are just once in your life pay the brothers a visit at McNeil the next time there is an exciting event such as this one. Don't just wait until an event occur, there are trips to McNeil almost every Saturday. If you are interested in visiting out brothers contact Allen Biggers, Outside Black Culture Workshop Chairman (EA9-0306) or Beverly Evans, Public Relations Chairman (EA5-4219).

I am sure I speak for all who were in attendance, the show was fantastic, sincere, and dynamic. "RIGHT ON TO OUR BROTHERS AT McNEIL."

Bernie Casey Poet, Painter, Acto

BERNIE CASEY, POET, PAINTER, ACTOR - Known for the two books of poetry he has had published, and for his not-quite abstract landscape paintings, Bernie Casey is also becoming known for his acting. He has his most conspicuous role yet in American International's "Boxcar Bertha," in which he befriends Barbara Hershey. Both his grin and his guns are memorable in this no-holds-barred drama about the woman outlaw who terrorized several central and southern states during the 1930's. Beside Barbara and Bernie, other stars of "Boxcar Bertha" are David Carradine, Barry Primus and John Carradine.

FORT LEWIS, WASH. --The Cavalry is leading Fort Lewis from the reenlistment doldrums to a starring role in the Army's recruiting race.

Once far down on the re-up charts, Fort Lewis has topped its quota for three straight months and nearly doubled the goal for May.

Reenlistments in the critical "first term" catagory have soared, mainly on the strength of a spectacular showing in the 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment.

The Cavalry reenlisted 60 first-termers in May --six times its regimental quota and eight more than the target number for the entire post.

The Regiment's first Squadron, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Edward H. Bonsall, was the pace-setter, promising "one a day in May" and then delivering.

When Private First Class Michael L. Richardson, of Portland, Oregon, reenlisted on the last day of May, he was the 31st man in his unit to choose to stay with the Cavalry and the Army.

Richardson, who joined the 3rd Cavalry from civilian life under the "Unit of Choice" option, said he signed up again because he likes the unit, and 30 days deave and a thousand sollar reenlistment bonus looked good, too.

The 31-man total was 850 per cent of the 1st Squadron's monthly quota.

Along with the 3rd Armored Cavalry, four other units exceeded their goal for first-term reenlistments--the 212th Artillery Group, 15th Support Brigade, 10th Aviation, and 9th Division Support Command.

Honduras hijacker indicted

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. — Frederick W. Hahneman of Easton Pa., has been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of hijacking an Eastern Airlines jet and bailing out over Honduras with $303,000 in ransom.

In addition to indicting the 49-year-old electronics technician on an air piracy charge, the jury charged him last week with assaulting, intimidating and threatening the eight-member aircraft crew with a pistol and with kidnaping and extortion.

He was arrested June 3 when he surrendered to U. S. Embassy officials in Honduras, nearly a month after the hijacking.

Teen jobless rate scored

DENVER — Charging that the country has been doing a poor job of building bridges from school to jobs, Secretary of Labor J. D. Hodgson called minority youth unemployment "outrageous."

He pointed out that in 1971 the jobless rate for nonwhite 16 and 17-year-olds was over 35 per cent and the rate for all young people in this age group was 19 per cent.

"That's just plain outrageous," the secretary declared in a speech here before the Industrial Relations Research Association.

CAR CARE CORNER

Many automotive products can give consumers double mileage by being useful for certain household jobs as well as car repairs.

For example, professional adhesives—such as Silicone Form-A-Gasket—that mechanics use for oil and pan gaskets, can be used by the general consumer for everything from sealing leaky windshields to replacing bathroom tiles, says Robert Howard, national automotive sales manager for Permatex Company.

Mr. Howard adds that a small container of Lock-Nut, a liquid lock washer, used by professional mechanics is also perfect for replacing that big box of old washers that seems to clutter up everybody's closet.

The Permatex Girl is an added attraction at the races.

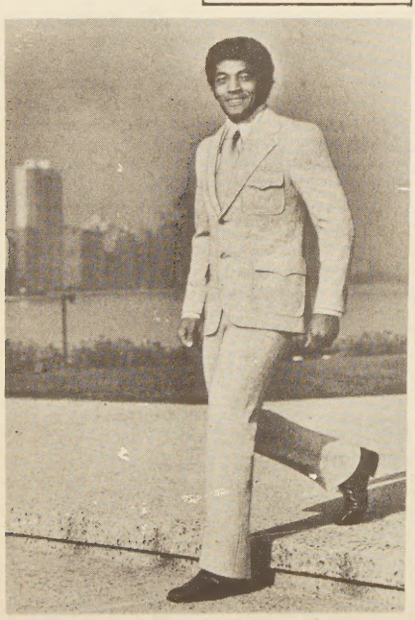
"THE NIXON," NEW DANCE

WASHINGTON -- Martha Duncan, 23 (left), and Aletha Thomas, 22, of Washington, D.C. rehearse "The Nixon," a new dance created by famed jazz musician Lionel Hampton. Aletha, a secretary in D.C. Mayor Walter Washington's office, is a contestant in this year's Miss Black District of Columbia contest and a student at the Barbizon School of Modelling. Martha, Office Manager at the Committee for the Re-election of the President, is studying ballet. They will join four other "Nixonettes" to introduce the dance at the $100-a-plate dinner climaxing the "Getting Ourselves Together" meetings Friday and Saturday in the Washington Hilton Hotel. Tickets are still available from Willie C. Mason, 1028 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Suite 1003, Washington.



Shaped suiting for the season are highlighted by textured double knits featuring wide lapels, deep center vents and flared-leg styling. Perfect complements are dime-round collar floral dress shirt and textured solid wide tie. Suit priced at about $90, shirt at about $8 and tie is priced at $4. Available at selected Sears The-Men's-Stores.

Junior ROTC Cadets Aid Community

STORY TIME: Leavenworth, Kans. high school Junior Army ROTC Cadet Captain Michael Junk reads to children at Neighborhood House--a recreational center.

LEAVENWORTH, Kans.--The 400 cadets of the high school Army Junior ROTC unit here are taught good citizenship--and their record shows they learn their lessons well.

The youngsters spend much of their free time, on a volunteer basis, to improve the quality of life in their hometown. Most weekends find them at work on one of a variety of projects designed to better Leavenworth's appearance or to assist some of its less fortunate citizens.

They become involved in cleanups--removing litter from the shoulders of city highways and thoroughfares and carting it to the local dump. They pick up trash at Neighborhood House buildings--recreational centers for low-income residents. They apply coats of paint to interiors and exteriors of non-profit institutions.

And they spend time with the less fortunate in the community. They read to disadvantaged pre-schoolers to prepare them for the time their education begins. They visit the lonely elderly confined to the Convalescent Infirmary, boosting morale with a game of checkers, a jigsaw puzzle or some friendly conversation. On Sundays, they assist veterans confined to wheelchairs to chapel services at the VA Center.

Last year, they spent more than 6,000 volunteer hours on such projects. And it appears they'll top that mark this year. It's the kind of work that's satisfying--to the givers as well as the receivers.
